

Too many cooks for the Reimbursement Stew

The Wilmington selectmen and school committee, Monday night, had to reluctantly face the facts. It will be impossible to vote for a new high school in Wilmington in time to qualify for the 65% reimbursement for which the town officials has been hoping.

John Brooks of the school committee told the selectmen that the town could not qualify, even if a special town meeting were to be called before July 1.

It was a case of too many cooks. Brooks told the selectmen that the school committee had been hoping to present the town meeting with several alternative ideas, in the building of a new school. He spent nearly an hour explaining the problems that now face the towns of Massachusetts, and the problems of Wilmington, which is now ready to consider the third proposed site for a new high school, in a five year period.

While Brooks did not exactly say so, there are now too many agencies in the Commonwealth with which the town must "touch base" in the planning of a high school.

It was several years ago, after the Salem Street site was voted that the town contracted with the Sasaki Associates firm to do an environmental impact study on the site. That was probably the first such school study in Massachusetts, which has the effect of slowing up school construction, and there are now many other agencies involved.

The school building assistance board is the state agency in charge of assisting towns and cities build schools. Up to July 1 the financial assistance for new schools which Wilmington has now lost) is to be 65%. After July 1 the financial assistance is to be 50.4%.

The SBAB has been approving of school plans for some years, and, in some instances to the distinct annoyance of some officials. The SBAB is now not alone.

There are a number of agencies who must approve of school plans, one of them being an agency which determines the size and plans for kitchen facilities and eating facilities. The SBAB no longer has anything to say on the subject.

There is an agency which is charged with seeing that the libraries in the school are adequate. All plans must be approved by the agency.

There is an agency which is charged with seeing that a certain amount of space and facilities in any school plan must be for children with disabilities, the so-called 786'ers. That agency, too, must approve of new school plans, before the SBAB can say "go ahead."

Wilmington, and other towns and cities cannot now build any new building, or renovate, or make an addition for school purposes. There is one simple reason: It will not be allowed, by the many cooks involved in the state agencies.

Meanwhile, the permanent

building committee (PBC) of Wilmington will have to get more money, probably from the town meeting, possible from the finance committee. The money that was in the PBC account is just about used up, for the drawing and redrawing of plans.

Danny Gillis has a planning session

Danny Gillis, chairman of the board of selectmen, had a planning session in the town hall last Thursday evening. Mr. Gillis was seeking methods of clearing away "red tape" in relations of Washington DC and the Town of Wilmington, and to attempt to develop plans for industrial and other expansion.

Present were three members of the staff of Congressman Paul Tsongas, Rep. Fred Cain, Arthur

Blake of the board of water commissioners, Christian Bachman of the finance committee, several selectmen and three members of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce including President Carl Melander.

The discussion seemed to agree in two findings:

1. The path of government relations is becoming more tortured. It was agreed that it might be wise to "clear" projects that might be discussed with Washington through Rep. Fred Cain, who possibly can be of distinct use, in some instances.

2. There is a growing water need in the area, Wilmington, North Reading, Tewksbury, etc. While Congressman Tsongas has already announced that he is working on a program, it was felt that a more concerted effort might be used.

No money for the Board of Appeals

Bruce MacDonald, chairman of the Wilmington Board of Appeals has told the Town Crier that his board is without money, to go to court, if the appeal from the board decision on low and moderate income housing is filed, as is expected.

MacDonald told the Town Crier that he has written a letter, about a week ago, to the town manager, requesting that there be some funds for legal defense, but that there has been no answer. "It may be" MacDonald said "That we will have to do as the Town Crier suggested - go in and ask the judge to assign a lawyer and then let the town pay the bill."

The Wilmington Finance Committee, meanwhile, is worrying about the possibility of personal suits against them as individuals, in the low and moderate income housing case. Eight of the finance committee members were at the selectmen's meeting Monday night, where they talked with both selectmen and Town Counsel, Alan Altman.

They were assured by town counsel that there would be legal protection for them, and Mr. Gillis, chairman of the board of selectmen told them that he had "been down the road," referring to a suit he had some fifteen years ago, filed by the late Jim Donahue of Cypress Street. Gillis was fined $1 as a result of the suit, which the town paid, he recalled "with two rolls of pennies."

Arthur Spear of the finance committee did not seem to be happy, though. Twice he brought up the fact that he had read the appeal board's decision, and in one instance he began to discuss it, saying that he thought it was pretty good.

Mr. Gillis banged with the gavel, to stop discussion, and declared that such conversation should be in executive session.

Town Counsel, Alan Altman, gazed at the ceiling.

DANNY GILLIS AND FRIENDS: After the discussion Thursday evening. From left, Steve Joncas of the Tsongas Lowell office; Mr. Gillis, Pat D'Addario of the Congressman's Washington office, Rep. Fred Cain, and Dave McCarthy of the Congressman's Lowell office.

Police salaries	295,591
Fire salaries	286,403
Town dump	27,820

The sum of $113,581 which was appropriated from Revenue Sharing funds over and above the planned distribution for 1976 was realized from $92,690 interest earned on the investment of Revenue Sharing funds, plus a balance of unexpended funds from prior year's appropriations.

A new front door

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston often called the Mother Church is opening a new front door. In fact, it's the first time the historic edifice has had a front door or main entrance, and the familiar Back Bay landmark is suddenly drawing fresh attention.

When the church extension was completed in 1906, the design called for a formal entrance which would give proper balance and grace to the structure, but this was never carried out. When, in 1968, plans were drawn up for the Christian Science Center, it was decided to complete the building as originally conceived.

The new front doors will open for the first time May 18, thus completing both the edifice and the center, and offering to visitors a proper front door.

Wilmington Crusaders must raise cash

The Wilmington Crusaders, state champion drum and bugle corps have a busy summer facing them, with a trip to Prince Edward Island up in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, as the big event of the year. They need $3,000 for the bus and meals, to get there and back, and $3,000 is a lot of money.

The Prince Edward Island (or is it the Charlottetown?) Chamber of Commerce will pay their expenses while they are in that pleasant province. It is getting there, and coming back that will cost.

Monday night the Wilmington selectmen decided to allow the Crusaders to conduct a carnival during June, in the WRA property on Eames Street. This was the fourth site named, and it seems there are Crusader officers who do not like the site. More will probably be heard on this subject.

The Crusaders will be the only Massachusetts Corps to go to Prince Edward Island. The event is not a competition - it is a parade, and a number of champion drum and bugle corps have been united to participate. It is considered to be quite an honor.

The Crusaders will appear in the Bi-Centennial program, at 10 a.m. Saturday, sponsored by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. They are to parade on Wilmington Common. They will be putting on four separate exhibitions during the day, and will be sponsoring a booth, for the purchase of goodies, all day.

There are six parades, and eight competitions for the Crusaders this summer, in addition to the already mentioned P.E.I. trip and next Saturday's Bi-Centennial program.

Sunday the corps will appear at a standstill at 1 p.m. at the George R. Wallace Civic Center in Fitchburg.

On Memorial Day there will be two parades. That in Wilmington, on May 26 is scheduled for 9 a.m., with the second in Tewksbury at 1 p.m.

There will be a competition at Msgr. Daily Field in Watertown at 5 p.m. on June 7, and another the next day at 1 p.m. at St. John's, at Russell Field in Cambridge.

The Crusaders will take part in a parade on Hyannis on June 21 at 1 p.m. and in a competition on June 28, which is a Sunday, at the Cawley Stadium in Lowell, starting at 6:30 p.m.

another competition the next day, at 1 p.m. at Norwood High School, in Norwood.

July 4 will have two parade dates for the Crusaders. The youngsters will parade in Wakefield at 2 p.m. and in Stoughton at 6 p.m.

Then the next morning, at 10 a.m., they will be parading at Lewiston, Maine. There will be three parades in a twenty-four period.

Starting on July 11, which is a Friday, the Crusaders will be in three competitions in one week, July 11, 7 p.m. in the Quincy Stadium, July 13 at 1 p.m. in the Cawley Stadium in Lowell, and July 18 at 7 p.m. at Westbrook High School, Westbrook, Maine.

There will be still another competition on August 10 at 1 p.m. at Franklin High School, Franklin, Mass., and then the windup finals, at 11 a.m. on August 31, at Bowditch Field, in Fitchburg, Mass.

Of course any of the parades, or any of the competitions may be changed, in schedule or place, but anyway, it seems the Crusaders will have a busy summer.

A fast decision

Kevin McMillan got a fast decision, from the board of appeals, Tuesday night in Wilmington.

Kevin, who lives on Kelly's Hill, had an article in the warrant for the annual town meeting of Wilmington, which allowed him to buy a lot of land off Parker Street, for a home. There was some confusion, but the voters understood they were selling a house lot. Kevin told the voters that he was buying the home of the late Minot Anderson, off Lowell Street, where the state is to put in a new cloverleaf with Route 93, and he had to move the home.

There were three facts.

1. Kevin had to move the home by Thursday (today) or the state would demolish it.
2. He couldn't move it to the house lot, even if the cellar was waiting for it, for the building department said there wasn't enough back yard.
3. The board of appeals, who could grant permission, were not meeting until Tuesday. That gave Kevin only two days for the board to grant permission.

The board of appeals listened to the particulars, Tuesday evening, 7 and decided that instant action was necessary. Then and there they granted Kevin permission, which is something that the board hardly ever does.

What the jury saw

In the Wilmington Town Crier this week is a story of the chairman of the board of selectmen, Danny Gillis, and how he paid $1 damages in Lowell Superior Court, about fifteen years ago.

Mr. Gillis mentioned the facts briefly, in the selectmen's meeting on Monday. It deserves more telling than did Gillis give it.

The late Jim Donahue was a member of the Wilmington Housing Authority, which fact has no direct relationship to this tale. Jim was developing the road which is now Christine Avenue in Wilmington and the planning board would not grant permission for something or other, so Jim sued, not only the planning board, but Mr. Gillis personally. Mr. Gillis was the chairman.

If the Town Crier recalls correctly, Mr. Gillis had his home attached, during the law suit.

The case was tried in Lowell, and in spite of the fact that the two men were fighting a law suit they went out together for lunch.

The restaurant they chose was the same on which the jury, duly guarded by deputy sheriffs, was eating. The jury undoubtedly noted that the two antagonists were eating together in a very friendly manner.

That, undoubtedly, accounted for the terrific sum of one dollar in damages.

A meeting in Germany

It isn't often that one meets what is practically the next door neighbor in a place three or four thousand miles from home, but it happened to Carl Backman, former Wilmington selectman a few days ago.

Carl is a member of the family which was known as the Flying Backmans, twenty years ago - took all sorts of national and international prizes for their speed skating. He has kept on skates, but only to play hockey.

Carl is a member of a hockey team which was recently invited to visit Germany, and play against some representative German hockey teams.

The team played against eight German teams, in Frankfurt, Mannheim, Baden Baden, Lahr, Munich, Garmischkirkenn, Innsbruck, and finally in Zwi Brucken.

In Zwi Bruken Carl was just going out on the ice, when a voice from the bleachers said "why Carl, what are you doing here?"

It was Ruth Kitchener, of Aldrich Road. Ruth isn't exactly a neighbor, but she lives within half a mile or so of Carl. She was in Germany visiting her son Albert, who is a teacher in a U.S. Army school.

Public Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages

Paul J. Lynch, Chief of Police, hereby calls attention to the bylaws of the Town of Wilmington, and in particular Chapter 5, Section 12:

Town bylaw

An amendment to the Revised Bylaws of the Inhabitants of the Town of Wilmington is hereby adopted by adding to Chapter 5, Public Regulations, Section 12, Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages, as follows:

- No person shall consume any alcoholic beverage while in or upon any street, public place, public building.
- No person shall consume any alcoholic beverage while in or upon any private land, building, or place without consent of the owner or person in control thereof.
- For the purpose of this bylaw, alcoholic beverages are as defined in Chapter 138, Section 1, of the General Laws.
- Alcoholic beverages being consumed in violation of this bylaw shall be seized and held by the Chief of Police until the case is disposed of by courts, after which such beverages shall be returned to the person entitled to their lawful possession.
- Whoever violates this bylaw shall pay a fine of not to exceed $10.00 for the first offense and not to exceed $25.00 for the second offense; and the fine shall be $50.00 thereafter.

Massachusetts General Law

Chapter 272, Section 40A:

Sale, Delivery or Possession of Alcoholic Beverages in Public School Buildings, etc.

Whoever gives, sells, delivers or has in his possession any alcoholic beverage, except for medicinal purposes, in any public school building, or on any premises used for public school purposes and under the charge of a school committee or other board of officers, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than thirty days or by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or both.

These two laws, the bylaw and the General Law, are being published as a public service to familiarize you with the laws that the Wilmington Police Department are required to enforce.

Through our efforts to acquaint you with these laws and the consequence of violating same, it would be my sincere hope that these laws would not be violated, thereby making the task of enforcement unnecessary.

TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF WILMINGTON: THINK before you DRINK! And remember: WHAT you drink is YOUR business - WHERE you drink is OUR business.

Finally, remember that WILMINGTON BELONGS TO ALL OF US. Therefore, LET US KEEP WILMINGTON A TOWN FOR ALL TO LOOK AT WITH GREAT PRIDE.

The Board of Water Commissioners

There is no official, of any town, state or country who is absolutely indispensable. There is no need for officials who feel that they are indeed without peer.

But there are officials who serve, in a town, in a state, or in a country, quietly and without ostentation, and fulfill a real need.

Such are the three men who, until last week constituted the Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners of Wilmington. There was an unpaid post, which they filled for years.

All three were quietly courteous. Mr. Blake, the chairman, is a retired engineer. Mr. McLain, who has asked that he not be re-appointed, is a competent accountant. Mr. Mullarky, the third member, is a person of sagacity, a school teacher by profession. Working together they made a good team.

Mr. Blake and Mr. Mullarky have said that they would retain their posts until the last of June, in order that the town manager have ample time to find replacements. The action is typical of the two men - thoughtful of the needs of others.

This paper has, from time to time, conducted discussions with that Board of Water Commissioners - concerning Weeping Hill, concerning Cold Spring, concerning rates charged to home owners of Wilmington (who, it may be argued are the stockholders), and other subjects. The Town Crier has always attempted to keep the discussions low key, as have the commissioners.

Others too have conducted conversations, in low key.

Now in recent months there have been some persons who have been throwing down the glove, as it were - challenging the commissioners in their work. Such an action is not always needed, and it is this paper's hope that the town manager will succeed in arguing that Board of Water Commissioners into continuing, unchanged.

they have done good work, and it is to be hoped that they will continue. They may have been right, they may have been wrong at times, but they have given the town real service.

Boy Scout exposition in Lowell this weekend

The Greater Lowell Council, Boy Scouts of America will be presenting their Bi-Centennial Boy Scout Exposition in Lowell this weekend, as a part of the Lowell Regatta Festival weekend.

The Scout Exposition will be on Lot 7, near city hall, and across from the J.F.K. Center.

This year's exposition will be dealing primarily with the National Bi-Centennial. Many of the Cub Scout and Boy Scout displays will be focused on such things as the Revolutionary War, cooking and the flags associated with Colonial and Revolutionary times: the Urban National Park, Bi-Centennial medallions, handicrafts, Dutch oven cooking, the American Heritage, Indians and Indian lore, and of course, basic camping techniques.

The American Legion of Massachusetts will be present to show how Scouting and the Legion have grown as partners in developing the youth of today.

Scouts from eight towns and from Lowell will be displaying the Scouting Spirit of 200 years ago, together with adult leaders, and the Scouting of the Future. There will be many contests, and a Pinewood Derby. Admission to the family event is $1, and tickets may be purchased from any Boy Scout.

Wildcats fall to Andover

Coach Kelley's tracksters dropped their first outing in two seasons last Monday when Andover's Golden Warriors nipped the Wildcats 73 - 72 to gain sole possession of first place in the MVC.

Though the Wildcats stayed within four points against a powerful Warrior field squad, the running events earned them the win. On the field, Dana Roueche picked up his usual wins in the long jump and triple jump, with Gordie Fitch and Steve Coville second respectively; Tim Nee and Robert Sferazza first and second in the high jump. Frank DePiano and Paul Reed picked up seconds in the shot and pole vault and Steve Winchell was third in the discus.

In the running events, blue ribbons went to Rick McCully (high hurdles), Nee (440), Roueche (220), Coville (880), and the mile relay (Nee, Cain, Gravalles, Coville). Seconds were garnered by Sferazza (100), McCully (lows), Doug Spring (two mile) and thirds went to Dan Capone (highs), Fitch (100), Ian MacInnis (mile), Gravalles (440), Tannian (lows) Sferazza (220) and Pete Mcnaughton.

The varsity came right back on Thursday to bomb Tewksbury 108 - 37. Big winners included Fitch (long jump), double winners Roueche (triple jump, 440), McCully (highs and lows), Nee (100 and 220), Mark Blaisdell (second in high jump, third in mile) and the 4 - 110 relay squad of Blaisdell, Cavanaugh, Fitch, Sferazza.

At the coaches' invitational in Brockton, the Wildcats showed well. Tim Nee tied for first in the 440 (5.8 tying WHS record), Rick McCully wecond in the high hurdles, Doug Spring fifth in the two mile (setting WHS mark of 9:30.8), a fifth in the mile relay (Blaisdell, Cain, Gravalles, Coville) a third in the long jump by Dana Roueche and a victory in the 880 relay squad of McCully, Sferazza, Roueche and Neet, setting school and meet records in that event.

Each guest received $3.00 worth of free tickets as well as bus transportation back and forth.

The weather was beautiful and the day went smoothly without any incidents, a fact which was appreciated very much by the management of Canobie Lake.

On the final day of bowling, trophies were awarded to the following students for having the highest average during the year. Monday - Robert Knight, 112, Shawsheen; Cathy Gorman, 102, Shawsheen; Tuesday - Arra Yeghigyan, 119, Woburn St.; Leath Ann Lesniak, 102; Wednesday - Jim Thorpe, 156, West Intermediate; Branda Baker, 124, West Intermediate; Linda Travaglia, 123, North Intermediate; Thursday - Richard Chase, 127, Shawsheen; Mary Kelley, 102, Shawsheen; Friday - John Gagnon, 106, Swain; Linda Staffiere, 102, Swain.

Rec Dept. summer leagues

The Wilmington Recreation Department is in the process of planning its summer baseball and softball programs for boys and girls residing in the town. The baseball entry will participate in the Northeast League along with clubs from Andover, Billerica, Chelmsford, Dracut, Lowell and Westford. Dick Mulno will return for his second year as manager of the Recs.

There will be three softball programs, boys (13-17); girls (13-16) and senior girls (17 and over). The junior girls will participate in the intra-town league, similar to last year, beginning in June at the town park. The senior girls may enter a league or play an independent slate depending upon the interest. The boys' intra-town league is tentatively set to get underway in late June. A recreation department sponsored junior girls' softball club will once again participate in the Northwest Suburban Softball League beginning in July with Jim Hastings handling the coaching chores.

All eligible participants are urged to sign up with Mr. Dicey in the high school any day during the registration period of May 14-23. Two evening registration sessions have been set up for Wednesday and Thursday May 21 and 22 at the Rec office in the former Mildred Rogers School from 7 to 9.

The determining date for eligibility is August 31, 1975. All interested participants for these baseball and softball programs should consult with Mr. Dicey, the Rec leagues coordinator in all questions concerning eligibility, playing dates, tryouts and cost.

Austin sports

Baseball

The Austin baseball team had the distinction of beating Merrimack League leader Dracut by a 4 - 2 score last week.

Austin's runs came in the second inning on a long triple by Mike Ciampa and a four base hit by another Reading lad, Ken McConell, in the third.

The Cougar's league record is now 2 - 6; they could easily be 6 - 2. However, Coach Scanlon feels that his team should reverse the trend in the second half of the league play.

Track

The big track news at Austin continues to be the shot put team of Mike Phillips, Mike Donahue and Terry Burke. This trio set a league record recently when they heaved the iron ball for the combined distance of 148' 3 1/2".

The same trio won Class C state honors last week with a combined 146' 7".

Phillips, Donahue and Burke are undefeated in league competition. Kevin Callahan, who ran the mile in four minutes, 24 seconds, has only been bested by a Wilmington runner. Jon Land has evoked good winning points for the Cougars in dual meets in the 220 and 440. Several freshmen have shown promise including Jason Smith, Bill Gallagher and Richard DeSanctis.

Coach Bruce Lehans has a realistic attitude about his track squad. He realizes that they have as yet to win a dual meet; nevertheless, he sees progress being made by his athletes.

Golf

The Austin golfers are top guns. They are sporting a 3 - 0 league record. Victories have been posted over Central, Chelmsford and Methuen.

The young men who are making an impressive showing include Mark Bergeron, Michael Sweeney, Tom Lawlor, Carl Van Laethem, Paul Drugan and Joseph Zarella.

Tennis

Austin league record is now 3 - 2. Coach Runge's squad, in their first year of varsity competition, is surprising the experts. Four lads who are wielding a fast racket are Mark Margiotta, Michael McAuliffe, John Waruszyla and Charles McQuade.

AT BAT: Tom Bromander sets up to blast Austin away. Intently watching are the rest of the members of the Wildcat team: (l to r) Jim Busby, Bob Dorval, Lester Peabody, Danny Hurley, Danny Spear, Chris DeLuca, Barry Foster, Bob Aprile, Coach Gillis, and Bob Woods.

Barbershop singers wanted

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (SPEBSQSA) meets every Monday evening at 8 at the Andover Elks (formerly Fieldstone Restaurant) on Route 28, to sing barbershop harmony.

The Andover Townsman Chorus and their barbershop harmony spotlights the old fashioned fun that surrounds barbershop singing, which dates back to the mid-1800's and is one of several truly American forms of singing.

Men of all ages and interests are invited to learn more about the chapter and to join in some fellowship and singing. It isn't necessary to be an expert singer or know how to read music, but it is necessary that participants enjoy the fun that evolves from singing.

The Andover Townsman Chorus has extended an invitation to interested men to contact Newell Bearse, 7 Englewood Drive, Wilmington for further information.

Dear Larz:
The proposed Regional Health Center in Wilmington which will serve the citizens of Andover, Billerica, Burlington, North Reading, Reading, Tewksbury, Wilmington and Woburn, is soon to become a reality. As explained in the enclosed brochure, the Health Center will meet the challenge of alleviating a documented need for health services for area citizens and employees.

We have already authorized the firm of Health Care Financial Consultants to conduct a fund raising feasibility study on behalf of the project. An important element of this study is a community attitude survey to determine the collective feelings of citizens toward the proposed health center.

A member of the staff will be calling you soon to arrange a fifteen minute confidential interview with a representative of the organization. As an interested member of our community we feel certain that your candid confidential remarks will prove most beneficial to this study's final determinations and recommendations.

Sincerely yours,
Larry S. Chapman
Executive Director

Public Letter to the Reading Light

Gentlemen:

This letter is to inform you that a group of concerned citizens have taken the name of Consumers for Fair Electric Rates. At their meeting of April 22, it was determined that in order to insure a more equitable electric rate structure, the following three critical issues require your most urgent attention:

Issue I: Rather than your current policy which discounts the sale of electricity for large volume users, we strongly support the adoption of a flat rate.

Issue II: We call for the institution of an inflation-proof lifeline policy. This concept would assure the availability of a minimum amount of life essential electricity to all customers at the lowest possible cost.

Issue III: We call for the reduction of your net profit from the legal maximum 8% to a more reasonable 4% level, a rate under which other municipal light departments are able to function. We see this as more favorable than the collection of the 8% which allows for half to be deposited into the Town of Reading's General Treasury.

While we acknowledge and applaud your most recent surcharge reduction from 32% to 26%, we nevertheless feel that greater efforts must be made. Therefore, your consideration of these three issues and a public response to them by May 13, is hereby requested. The Consumers for Fair Electric Rates also requests a copy of your response.

Respectfully,
Consumers for Fair Electric Rates

The next meeting of the C.F.F.E.R. will be held Tuesday, May 20 at the Reading Unitarian Church, corner of Woburn and Summer Streets, at 7:30 p.m. In order to effect meaningful change, it is essential that as many consumers as possible attend.

North Intermediate Arts and Science Day

JEAN TARRICONE AND DEBBIE BOTELHO: Getting things ready for the North Intermediate School's Arts and Science Day.

The students and faculty of the North Intermediate School in Wilmington are preparing for their Arts & Science Day next Tuesday.

This year the theme has a bicentennial ring - "The Way We Were." Many of the projects being completed reflect upon the culture of America's past. Some of the students will be running a restaurant "The Melting Pot" under the direction of Mrs. Irene Brennan. The menu will include over a dozen different dishes from varying countries reflecting the many nationalities that make up America.

The seventh and eighth grade history classes of Mr. Connelly have done extensive research into Wilmington's Colonial history and will be presenting a slide show as well as conducting tours to some of the more historical sights in Wilmington. Another class will be running an old fashioned ice cream parlor showing the way ice cream used to be made. They will also be selling their product.

Mr. Spriggs has a slide presentation showing how many of the North's former students now in the high school used to look as seventh and eighth graders.

There are over fifty projects done and all family and friends are invited. The afternoon hours are from 1 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. and the evenings hours are from 6 to 9 p.m., on Tuesday, May 20.

Life's complicated enough.

Everything seems to have gotten more involved. Including banking.

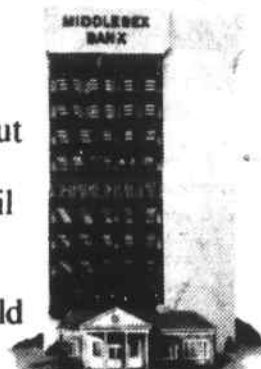

With all the special accounts, myriad interest rates, and free this-and-thats being offered these days, you practically have to be a banker to understand what's going on.

We could just sympathize with you at Middlesex. But instead, we're going to try to make banking simpler by streamlining procedures and cutting out red tape wherever we can.

Like with our Middlesex UniStatement. It gives you everything you want to know about your finances on a single sheet of paper. Plus free checking, and interest on your money until you use it.

Today, banks shouldn't make handling money complicated and confusing. They should be making it simple. At Middlesex we are.

CAR CORNER

by Eddie Holder and Joe Casey

The first early car to really catch the public eye was called the Merry Oldsmobile. It was designed as an economy car by Ransom E. Olds.

The car was a two seater and had a one-cylinder engine. The car sold for $650, about half as much as the price of its competitors.

In 1914 Henry Ford opened the world's first moving assembly line for automobiles and for the next eighteen years the Model T Ford held supremacy in the economy line for cars.

WILMINGTON FORD, 275 Main St., Rt. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800 is the first in service and selection. New England's largest and finest Ford dealership, we claim there's no better deal anywhere and our prices prove it. Our sales department welcomes shoppers as well as buyers; our salesmen are here to help you, not pressure you. Hours: sales, 9-10 Mon-Fri; 8-6 Sat; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30-5 Sat.

The Nimrod
Press

170 Brookline Ave., Boston, Mass. 02215

Nimrod has some very big and very modern printing presses. We call them "Super-54's". Since they run at high speeds and print both sides of a sheet at the same time, they reduce costs. And you reap the savings. But the best part is that you don't sacrifice on quality to save money.

Nimrod's "Super-54's" can really help fight inflation. A 32-page 8 1/2 x 11 brochure is printed on one piece of paper. If your piece is a 64 page (and approximately 4 1/2 x 6) or a 128 pager (approximately 4 1/4 x 5 3/4) we can print it on one sheet of paper also. It all adds up to big savings for your printing budget.

Who can take advantage of the "Super-54's"? Anyone with medium and long runs of one- and two-color brochures, catalogs, newsletters, flyers and direct mail. Savings of 15% and more are possible, depending on the number of copies.

In times like these, you owe it to yourself to look into savings like that.

Nimrod also offers complete service in one plant. Design, production art, typesetting, proofreading, in-house bindery, you name it... we have it. And on two-shift operation.

Call a halt to inflation in your budget. Call Nimrod at 261-2900 and ask for Joe Garvey, our Vice President of Marketing.

The club also participates in the annual New England District of Kiwanis Scholarship Program.

SENIOR CITIZENS

In February 1975 the Kiwanis Club hosted twenty-two senior citizens for dinner and entertainment.

Cooperating with the Council for the Aging, the club supplies prizes for monthly whist parties and also provided playing cards.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AWARDS

Top students in the Industrial Arts Department in Wilmington High School are honored annually at a special occasion. Each of six students is awarded a saving bond.
